A Message from the Fundraising Chairperson...

Hello All,

As the new chairperson for the Montague & Associates Fundraising Committee, please allow me to express my gratitude and excitement regarding the position. After allowing myself a few days to digest the news, I am eager to begin the venture. Fundraising for the Annual Networking Seminar is going to be challenging, especially considering the economic turmoil facing the U.S. economy. However, I believe I have a strong committee on my side and we will successfully tackle this mission together.

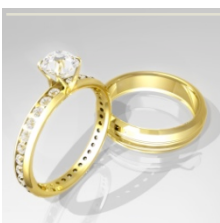

Obviously, raising funds to contribute to the event is crucial, yet I believe there are many other benefits of such a task. For example, fund raising involves critical thinking. We need to be able to develop ideas that will not only be profitable, but will also intrigue consumers. My committee needs to think outside of the box but also be able to effectively evaluate their ideas to ensure productivity.

Secondly, fundraising is important because it allows those involved to feel empowered. Personally, this is the driving force behind my own efforts for this event. Being put in charge of raising the funds for an event that is going to benefit me has encouraged me to work harder than ever before. I am proud of this responsibility.

As the committee chairperson, I vow to stay committed and organized to the tasks at hand, as well as to listen to my peers and put as many of their fundraising ideas in motion as possible. I understand that this title warrants many responsibilities and I want my fellow peers and faculty to know that I am ready for the job. With that said, hold on tight because we are in for a bumpy ride – but I promise that we will all arrive safe and sound!

Best wishes,

Angel Foglio
 Fundraising Chairperson

Some Inside Scoop

I recently completed my Junior Internship with JustWeddings.com, a fairly new wedding company that connects brides and grooms with qualified wedding professionals. During my time there, I acted as a verification coordinator, making sure the information newlyweds submitted was correct, then helping them chose the best wedding vendor for their big day. I had the opportunity to work on a large partnership project with David's Bridal and was interviewed by Inc. Magazine regarding my experience with the company.
