

Timothy J
Armbruster

1956 North Eighteenth
Street
Number 1
Philadelphia, PA

Phone: 570-650-1480

E-mail:

timothy.armbruster@temple.edu

Find me on Facebook!

Special points of interest:

- Highlights into the life and times of the digest's founder.
- What makes him a leader and what can he work on?

Inside this issue:

"A Legend in the Making" I

"Of Modesty and Men" I

Contact Information I

Armbruster's Digest

Volume 1, Issue 1

March 1, 2010

A Legend in the Making

Welcome to the introductory issue of Timothy's Digest, the world's first publication which provides an insight into the intriguing mind of one of Temple University's most underrated students. This issue will provide a background of the newsletter's founder, his strengths and weaknesses, as well as a discussion of why this student feels he is underestimated.

Mr. Armbruster was born in the small town of Avoca, nestled between Scranton and Wilkes-Barre Pennsylvania. He spent a majority of his childhood traveling to New York City as a child actor/model, developing his charisma and trademark smile. Despite his reputation as a local celebrity, he still managed the time to participate on sports teams and lead a normal childhood.

Despite a successful childhood career, Timothy began focusing his attention on sports. After becoming captain of his high school soccer team, he developed into a respected leader on the field. Always the first to arrive at practices and the last to leave, he earned the trust of his teammates and coaching staff.

Following graduation, Timothy enrolled at Temple University. In the spring of 2007 he entered into the School of Tourism and Hospitality Management where he is steadily gaining the respect of his classmates and instructors. His dream is to own day own his own multi-purpose event venue complete with a full-service restaurant and lounge.

Founder, Timothy Armbruster, ponders life in Independence Square.

Of Modesty and Men

Artist Paul Cezanne once said "the awareness of our own strength makes us modest." Tim has always felt that he was a modest person. While seemingly reserved from the outside, he was anything but on the inside.

On the inside, Tim exemplifies confidence, resolve, ambition, and a strong work ethic. Tim is also a naturally divergent thinker, never focusing on the obvious answer to a problem, but rather exploring every angle of a problem before coming to a solution. These qualities feed into his entrepreneurial spirit because he constantly aims to be a trendsetter in everything he does.

While Tim appears to be the master of his own domain, nobody is perfect. Tim still has a weak network and poor organizational skills. He also tends to be overly critical of himself in some situations, however, he hopes to turn these weaknesses around as he navigates his way to becoming a consummate professional.