

Who is Josue Louis?

Student-athlete double major Josue Louis has dreams and aspirations, “I’d like to have and run my own sports facility. It’s been a dream of mine since I was about 10,” Louis expresses. Receiving a full athletic scholarship to Temple University in the Spring of 2006, pushed Louis a few steps closer to doing just that. At Temple, Louis has become a high rise star student-athlete on the track and is a former football player as well. Currently a double major in Sport & Recreation Management and African American Studies, Louis has also joined student organizations to open his realm of networking to its

Picture by: Temple Athletics highest potential. Involved in the Haitian Student Organization (HSO), Main Campus Program Board (MCPB), New Voice News Letter (NVNL), Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC), Atlantic 10 Student Athlete Advisory Committee (A-10 SAAC), Sport & Recreation Professional Association (SRPA), School of Tourism & Hospitality Management (STHM), Louis has taken the opportunity to meet and get well acquainted with the Temple student body. Being involved in the student community has given Louis the strength to share his critical thinking mind with peers

“Who is the Judge?
God is the Judge.
Why is he the Judge?
Because he decides who wins and who loses not my opponent. Who is your opponent? My opponent does not exist.. Why doesn't he exist? Because he is merely a descending voice of the truth I speak.”
- The Great Debaters

“The Sleeping Giant” ...

Current captain of the soaring high Temple Track & Field Men's Team, as well as Atlantic-10 Indoor 2010 High Jump Champion, Louis strives to lead by example and portray a model of courage, ambition and perseverance. “Mr. Louis is like a “Sleeping Giant,” he may appear to have nothing to put forth, but once he is awakened, his charisma and ambitions are unleashed. A trait not seen in most student athletes,” says Head Track & Field Coach, Eric Mobley. Today, Louis is a Senior in The School of Tourism & Hospitality Management at Temple University as well as the College of Liberal Arts. “Life has come at me fast, here I am a senior and a striving student-athlete, trying to be successful at both is tough. But the greatest risk is to not take a risk at all.” Louis is pursuing a promising career in facilities management. He has had the opportunity to work close hand with this year’s Promoter of the Year, Vernoca Michael at the Legendary Blue Horizon. There, Louis performed inventory as well as performed building assessments for facility repairs. Along with interning at the Legendary Blue Horizon Boxing Facility, Louis interned with Global Spectrum in their travel office.

Characteristics

- * Leader
- * Communicative
- * Ambitious
- * Loyal
- * Creative

Cont...

Louis believes that his internships were, “Terrific learning experiences,” as he exclaims, “I have grown so much into a critically engaged thinker, that I’m sure I can enhance the face of Facilities and Operations Industries.” In his last semester currently at Temple University, Louis continues to strive for nothing more or less than that of success and intelligence in his daily routine. In search of an opportunity to intern during the summer of 2010 in the field of facilities, Louis is taking every opportunity to network and prove to his competitors that, he is more than capable of completing all tasks designated. “Bigger, Stronger and Faster,” a lesson he lives by and takes into every realm of his day. “I am positive that no other company nor corporation will/can find a harder worker than myself. Try me and

I’ll prove it.” -Josue Louis

Picture By: Claude Daniel